INTRODUCTION

WHY JAPAN: 7 REASONS FOR CHOOSING JAPAN

Global Center of Academics, Research, and Industry

Japan has long been a leading force for research and development in many industries – from engineering and pharmaceuticals to robotics – and also has a strong academic community with a driven spirit as evidenced by its 25 Nobel Prize winners in areas such as physics, chemistry, and medicine. Japan has one of the largest national memberships within many international associations, and a strong tradition of hosting international association meetings. Japan also has several industry clusters around the country, making trips including technical visits and networking opportunities easily organized.

A Proven Track-Record of Meetings & Events Experience

Japan has a great amount of experience in hosting international association conferences and meetings. Just recently, in October 2012, one of the world's largest meetings, the Annual Meeting of the IMF and World Bank Group, came to Tokyo with its more than 10,000 delegates on very short notice. The meeting destination had to be rescheduled a short 16 months in advance, and the Japan team coordinated the move to Japan with passion and professionalism, ensuring a smooth transfer and a very successful meeting – which was very much appreciated by the event's organizers. Japan's network of local convention bureaus, professional congress organizers and DMCs bring this level of professionalism to all events in Japan.

World-class Hospitality and Service

Japan is known as the country with the Hospitality. The traditional Japanese hospitality roots in the culture of courtesy and considering for others, especially towards visitors. Hospitality remains a key part of Japanese culture today, and certainly applies to the meetings and events industry. We constantly receive fantastic feedback from conference organizers and delegates for our high quality of service which they receive during their time in Japan. In fact, satisfaction surveys of visitors to Japan show that 91% of respondents are either "very satisfied" or "satisfied" with their trip, and a massive 93% want to visit again (2012 JTA Consumption Trend Survey for Foreigners Visiting Japan).

Fusion of Tradition and Innovation

For many years now, Japan has been famous worldwide for its famous artists, architects, fashion designers and other creative people – all of whom to contribute to a modern "Cool Japan". Their creativity and artistic sensibility stem from Japan's sophisticated and ancient traditional culture, rich in craftsmanship and a strong aesthetic sense. This sense of aesthetic and pride in one's work are present in Japan's meeting venues, hotels and meetings industry staff today.

The Variety of a Continent in a Single Country

Japan stretches a considerable distance from north to south, all the way from a sub-frigid zone in the north of Hokkaido to the subtropical zone in southern Okinawa. With this huge geographic variety comes a great diversity in destinations and activities available to visitors, including meeting and incentive participants. Japan's various cities and regions offer everything from snowy mountainside ski resorts to coral reef-ringed islands, with large metropolitan areas and charming rural villages. Throughout the country, there are dozens of government-appointed "International Convention Cities", all of which have meeting facilities, hotels, research centers, universities and so on to be utilized by international meetings. On top of all of these, up and down the country, Japan offers "only in Japan" venues that add the necessary local flair to events.

Easy Accessibility from Anywhere in the World

For an event with participants coming from all over the globe, Japan is an excellent choice because all major global airlines fly direct. Japan's international airports are among Asia's most important gateways for flights from North America and Europe. Once in the country, MICE visitors can travel conveniently on Japan's world-class domestic rail and air networks to any destination for business or leisure.

Culinary Paradise to Delight food Connoisseurs and “All-you-can-drink” System at Izakaya

From sushi to noodles, high-end to street food, traditional to robot restaurants, eating in Japan is one of the world's great pleasures. Tokyo alone boasts almost as many Michelin stars as London and New York combined. Also, if you like to drink alcohol, Izakaya (Japanese bar) may be a paradise! Most of them offers “All-you-can-drink” package and you can enjoy many kinds of alcohol with the package price within the designated time (usually 2-3 hours).

INTRODUCTION

WHY JAPAN: DOMESTIC EXCELLENT NETWORKS

Domestic Transportation

Japan's public transportation system is one of the world's largest and is considered to be a global leader in terms of quality. The network of aviation and rail systems make it possible for travellers to access almost all of the country easily, quickly and comfortably. Within individual cities, subway and bus routes are well organized, making navigation simple.

Domestic Flights

There are over ninety domestic airports throughout Japan, making it possible for visitors to reach all corners of Japan from within two hours of arriving in Tokyo.

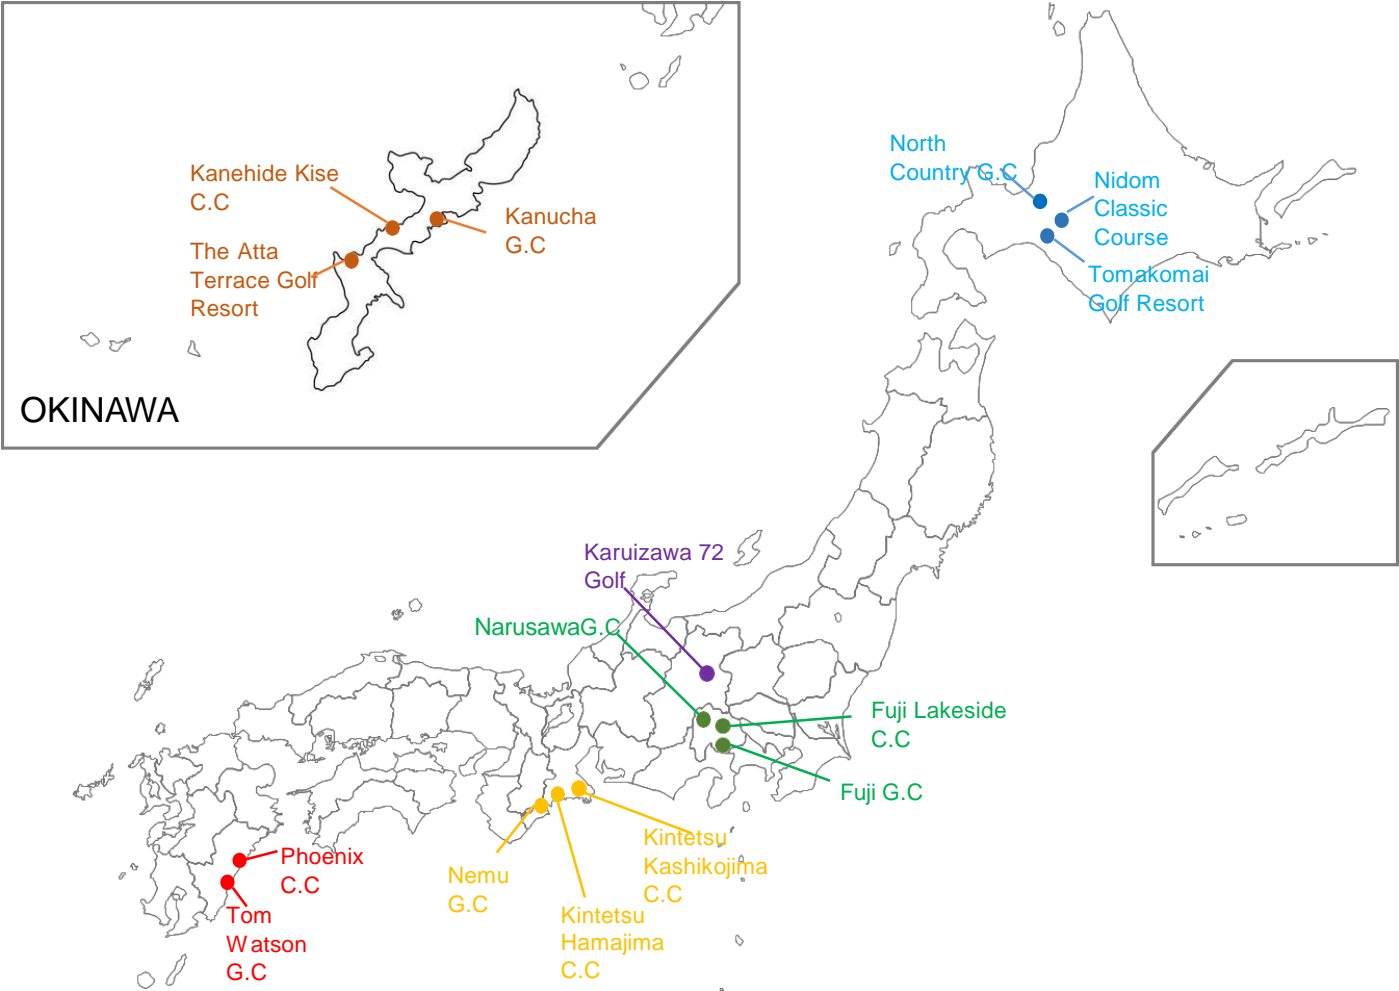

Railways

There are 27,000 km of rails running the length and breadth of Japan. This huge system is known for its efficiency and is almost always accurate to the minute. The Shinkansen ("bullet train") runs at speeds of up to 300 km/h and at a frequency of one every few minutes between large cities, making rail travel often even quicker than flying domestically.

Urban Railways and Subways

In Japan's largest cities like Tokyo and Osaka, the rail and subway systems are circularly-arranged with lines radiating from the city centers. They make travel around cities very fast and convenient – for example, Tokyo alone has over 280 stations on 13 subway lines, making it easy to reach all corners of the city quickly.

Winter (December – February)

The temperature rarely drops below 0° C in the plains along the Pacific coast during wintertime. It is also quite dry and very often sunny. Central Japan and Northern Japan are highly reputed regions for winter sports. Southern Japan is comparatively mild and pleasant in winter.

Clothing: overcoats, sweaters, etc.

Spring (March – May)

The plum blossom is a good sign that the cold winter will soon end and spring is just around the corner, followed by the cherry blossom at its best in the Tokyo area between the end of March and the beginning of April to bring this beautiful season to a climax. Splendid views of mountains, fields and gardens all blanketed in gentle pink abound in this season.

Clothing: light jackets, light sweaters and other similar kinds of tops.

Summer (June – August)

The Japanese summer begins in June with a three to four week rainy season. This is an important time for farmers to plant rice. It becomes seriously hot and humid from July onward and many Japanese enjoy bathing in the sea and relaxing at cool resorts in mountainous areas. Summer is when many interesting festivals and other events are held all over the country.

Clothing: light clothes (cardigans and other similar kinds are handy, since indoors are mostly air-conditioned.)

Autumn (September – November)

Autumn always brings such freshness with a light breeze and cool temperature after the hot and humid summer. All forests are dyed in glorious autumn colors. Chrysanthemums create beautiful displays with their abundance of flowers to enchant visitors to parks and gardens. Autumn is also the season for many exhibitions, music concerts and sports tournaments in Japan.

Clothing: light jackets, light sweaters and other similar kinds of tops.
