Culture Experience of DMC Japan Kyoto

Shitimi (Japanese spice)workshop

"shitimi", which literally means "Seven flavors" in Japanese, is a popular seasoning in Kyoto. Although it was once used as medicine, many people now enjoy it as a Japanese chili pepper for noodles and "nabe", a hot-pot. You can create your own "Shitimi" by mixing and grounding red pepper and some other natural flavor ingredients! You use gold sesame, black sesame, chili pepper, fried chili pepper, Japanese pepper, dried orange peel, seven kinds of raw materials of green string lettuce.

30 min / Up to 40 persons

Makie workshop

MAKIE (Gold Sprinkled Painting /sprinkled picture) is Japanese lacquer sprinkled with gold or silver powder as a decoration using a makizutsu or a kebo brush. The technique was developed mainly in the Heian Period (794 -1185) and blossomed in the Edo Period (1603-1868). Maki-e objects were initially designed as household items for court nobles; they soon gained more popularity and were adopted by royal families and military leaders as a symbol of power.

60 min / Up to 40 persons

Raden workshop

RADEN is a style and technique in Japanese lacquer ware and woodwork using inlays of shell and ivory to decorate pieces that usually have a wood base, whether lacquered or not, though bases of metal or other materials may be used. The shells used include mother-of-pearl, abalone and other types.

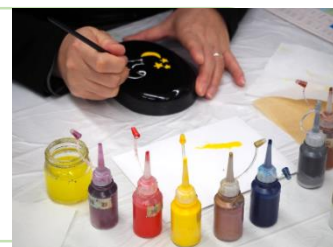

60 - 90 min / Up to 40 persons

Iroetsuke workshop

Learn traditional techniques of decorating lacquer ware handed down. IROETSUKE is a technique of painting pictures with colored URUSHI lacquer.

60 min / Up to 40 persons

Gold leaf stamping workshop

Gold leaf stamping technique, originally used for decoration of various religious furnishings, fittings and statues in Buddhist temples, consists of gluing gold leaves to the plane or three-dimensional surface with the help of urushi lacquer. Please enjoy to create your own personal piece of art using the world's thinnest and finest Gold leaf!
